The Angelina Jolie - Brad Pitt's relationship has been finally confirmed by actor pal George Clooney, who declared the pair "looks very content". Clooney, 44, became one of Pitt's close friends after they filmed together "Ocean's Eleven" and "Ocean's Twelve", and support him after the break up from wife Jennifer Aniston, earlier this year. Clooney said to Vanity Fair magazine, "I see them together and they look very content, which makes me happy. I've met her a few times. She is a very beautiful woman and very clued up." George, however, also confessed that Brad's split with Aniston made him upset. "It really saddened me. They are both good friends," Clooney said.
