Hollywood actress Angelina Jolie attracts much more attention than Jennifer Aniston from Web surfers throughout the United States. According to <http://www.leadpile.com>, one of the leading providers of Internet marketing and click traffic monitoring, Angelina Jolie has become one of the most "hit and clicked Hollywood superstars" on the net. Andy Jacob, CEO of Leadpile.com says, "Our study shows that last month alone, the interest in Angelina Jolie skyrocketed and totally blew away the number of people surfing for Jennifer Aniston by a huge margin. Angelina out clicked Jennifer by 5 to 1, and that indicates she is five times more popular to web surfers than the former "Friends" star." Jacob says, "It looks like Angelina not only has grabbed the attention of Brad Pitt, but she also grabbed the attention of web surfers throughout the United States, and is becoming one of the most highly recognized and sought after names on the net. Our research shows that Angelina Jolie has certainly captured the attention of people who simply cannot get enough of her."
