Rumors that Hollywood hunk Ben Affleck was tying the knot last night with Jennifer Garner, the supersexy superspy on "Alias" were denied today by Affleck's spokesman. Ken Sunshine wrote yesterday in Daily News that "Ben Affleck and his pregnant "Alias" beauty Jennifer Garner may be tying the knot - and that she had even ordered flowers Saturday for herself and six bridesmaids." The florist who spread the rumor, described even the bride's bouquet. "He's totally lying," Sunshine said. "The guy got more publicity than ever in his life." "[Ben and Jen] are not in West Virginia," he insisted. "They did not get married yesterday. They did not get married today."
