

29 July 2005

By:

Blur Damon Albarn: Make Doherty History' Campaign

Blur member Damon Albarn recently confessed that he cannot stand Pete Doherty at all

Blur member Damon Albarn recently confessed that he cannot stand Pete Doherty at all, arguing Pete is heavily overrated and criticized his lousy performance at Live 8 concert. "The concert was all about raising awareness, but Peter looked like he was having trouble raising his own awareness - he looked wasted," stormed Damon. "With Africa, we're talking about a nation battling through immense poverty and he can't quite get it together to sing a song. On that day he just seemed like an odd image", Albarn added. Damon also confessed how amaze is by the amount of attention Doherty receives, because him and his band have only one song released. Albarn said he's thinking of starting a campaign to 'make Pete Doherty history'. Albarn fumes: "What does matter is that Babyshambles have only ever released one song - one song!" "People talk about this great talent, but there's nothing to him. He's a mess. I'm starting a campaign to 'Make Doherty History'. He's well over-rated."