Brad Pitt has been spotted in Calgary, fooling around in trendy clubs and expensive restaurants.

Brad Pitt has been spotted in Calgary, fooling around in trendy clubs and expensive restaurants, since his arrival last week, for shooting his latest movie, "The Assassination of Jesse James".

Brad Stevenson, the owner-operator of a restaurant called the Kensington Verve, where Brad took lunch two times, declared: "He's got darker hair now, so he seemed really incognito."

"We decided he just needs to be treated like a human being, so we acknowledged him like everyone else at his table. I think that's why he came back," Stevenson added.

Angelina Jolie, his assumed girlfriend, has also made the trip to Calgary, but it's not known if she came to see Brad or her father, who's also shooting in town.
