

18 October 2005

By: Silviu Stahie, Video and PC Games Editor

Call of Duty 2 Is Bundled With GeForce 7800 GT

Nvidia gets exclusive rights

NVIDIA GeForce has been selected by Activision as the preferred platform for Call of Duty 2, the sequel to Call of Duty. To enable gamers to experience Call of Duty 2 as it was truly intended, NVIDIA has reached an agreement with Activision that allows partners of NVIDIA to bundle the Call of Duty 2 game with graphics cards based on the award-winning series of GeForce GPUs. Soon, NVIDIA partners will start offering their NVIDIA-based graphics cards with Call of Duty 2. Under the agreement, NVIDIA is granted exclusive bundling rights to Call of Duty 2, which makes their partners the only source to get Call of Duty 2 outside of a stand-alone purchase of the game in retail. The bundles will occur simultaneously with the retail launch of Call of Duty 2. NVIDIA and Activision will also participate in joint advertising and various promotional activities through the holiday selling season to make consumers aware that GeForce is the preferred GPU for Call of Duty 2. For a limited time, when you buy a GeForce 7800 GT-based graphics card from select NVIDIA partners, you get a copy of Call of Duty 2 FREE! The GeForce 7800 GT brings the intense Call of Duty 2 action to life through ultra-realistic characters, environments, and special effects. This week, Softpedia would like to know your opinion on gaming consoles. What is your favorite console you either own or you are planning to buy? Are you an Xbox fan or a Playstation fan? Has Xbox360 convinced you it's time to buy one? Or you'll wait for the PS3? Express your opinion here.