

10 February 2006

By: Adina Gheorghe, Entertainment Editor

"Catwoman" Star Halle Berry Goes Public with Gabriel Aubry

The two were inseparable at the re-opening of Donatella Versace's Fifth Avenue boutique in New York City on Tuesday evening

Sexy "Catwoman" star Halle Berry finally went public with her new model boyfriend Gabriel Aubry. The two came together this Tuesday at a Versace party in New York organized to celebrate the revamping of the Medusa label's Fifth Avenue flagship boutique. The beautiful actress has been lately rumored of dating Gabriel, but she refused to confirm her relationship with the model so far. The twice-divorced stunning star has been quietly dating the Versace model after they met in December while starring in Versace advertisements. The 39-year-old Berry and the 30-year-old Aubry, were inseparable at the re-opening of Donatella Versace's Fifth Avenue boutique in New York City, which was also attended by Jennifer Lopez, Kate Hudson, Nicolas Cage, Benicio Del Toro, Cindy Crawford, Sting and Claire Danes. Post-dinner, the guests, who each received a Medusa image glass plate gift, split in three directions: Donatella's after party in Bungalow 8, Alex von Furstenberg's "surprise" birthday party at Double Seven or Justin and Natalie Portman's fete in their Tribeca apartment. Still, Halle and Gabriel are not reported to have attended one of those places. Since her 2003 split with second husband, soul singer, Eric Benet, Berry has also dated her "Their Eyes Were Watching God" co-star Michael Ealy, but nothing serious has come to a happy end so far.