The "Voice of an Angel" soprano Charlotte Church stated she is disgusted by actress Tara Reid's behaviour, because of her drinking habits. Church, 19, claims her reputation of a party and drinking girl is nothing comparing to Reid, who is currently filming her reality TV show Wild On Tara in London. Church says, "Whenever she's out, her t*ts keep falling out. I would never be like that. It's not very lady-like." Charlotte's looks and popular repertoire have made her a great commercial success. Her breakthrough album, "Voice of an Angel", established her unique talents as a soprano at such a young age. She made a cameo appearance on the US CBS series Touched by an Angel. She later appeared on numerous PBS specials and television commercials, most notably in the acclaimed Just Wave Hello campaign for the Ford Motor Company.
