Get the Sooper Secret

Codename: Kids Next Door - Operation: V.I.D.E.O.G.A.M.E is a video game developed by High Voltage Software Inc. and published by Global Star Software Inc. It was created for the PlayStation 2 gaming platform from Sony, the original Xbox from Microsoft and the Game Cube. It was released in October 2005. The game is classed as an action title with elements of puzzle solving which is played mainly from a third person perspective; it is based on intellectual property derived from the Kids Next Door movies.

The Cartoon Network managed to create a very successful show with Codename: Kids Next Door. The idea is that apparently innocent little kids are able to battle some of the worst threats to the universe. Their arch-nemeses from the show include Knightbrace and Count Spankulot, villains that escape from the maximum-security KND prison on the moon. In the game, all the bad guys make an appearance and the player will control the kids to take out the threats.

In each mission of Codename: Kids Next Door - Operation: V.I.D.E.O.G.A.M.E, the player controls just one specific KND agent and each of the agents has unique play style and abilities. Numbuh One is a master of ranged weaponry and can take down foes from far away, Numbuh Two pilots aircraft and spacecraft, Numbuh Three can jump better and higher, Numbuh Four is a great melee brawler while Numbuh Five uses stealth to gain the advantage.

Yatta Yatta Yatta: Sooper Secret

If you're playing Numbuh 5, you get through the stage Yatta Yatta Yatta. Get to the part with the disco ball. Note: When you step under the disco light, robots appear. There is a Sooper Secret to be found. When you first get the intermission sequence, you see you are entirely surrounded. Near the left in the far distance should be a pool table. Go over to it. Once there, notice the pool balls on the table. Use your character to push the balls into the nearby fireplace. Once you get one in, you should hear the same sound that plays when you get a rainbow monkey. Keep track of all the pool balls. If you lose one and cannot find it, you cannot get the Sooper Secret. When you get all the pool balls in the fireplace, a strange icon drops from it. Run into it and you should get a Sooper Secret unlocked message.
