Get the Super Special

Codename: Kids Next Door - Operation: V.I.D.E.O.G.A.M.E is a video game developed by High Voltage Software Inc and published by Global Star Software Inc. The game was created for the PlayStation 2 gaming platform from Sony, the original Xbox from Microsoft and the Game Cube. It was released in October 2005. The game is classed as an action title with elements of puzzle solving which is played mainly from a third person perspective and is based on intellectual property derived from the Kids Next Door movies.

The Cartoon Network managed to create a very successful show with Codename: Kids Next Door. The idea is that apparently innocent little kids are able to battle some of the worst threats to the universe. Their arch-nemeses from the show include Knightbrace and Count Spankulot, villains that escape from the maximum-security KND prison on the moon. In the game, all the bad guys make an appearance and the player will control the kids to take out the threats.

In each of the mission of Codename: Kids Next Door - Operation: V.I.D.E.O.G.A.M.E, the player controls just one specific KND agent and each of the agents has unique play style and abilities. Numbuh One is a master of ranged weaponry and can take down foes from far away, Numbuh Two pilots aircraft and spacecraft, Numbuh Three can jump better and higher, Numbuh Four is a great melee brawler while Numbuh Five uses stealth to gain the advantage.
