Professionally-crafted objects and templates that anyone can use

Formed in 2007, iPresentee is a group of professional and enthusiastic IT designers whose goal is to create high quality, easy to use, and fun add-ons for Apple's iWork and iLife applications. While most of the company's products are paid, iPresentee also offers an array of free objects and templates for Mac users that shouldn't miss from your hard drive.

Keynote Objects

The package includes 100 colorful and attractive objects, spanning all possible themes that you could use in a paper, presentation, blog, and so on. The background is, of course, transparent and can be used on any colored background, while objects can be changed in size, rotated, increased or decreased in opacity, fitted with shadows or overlapped with one another. Keynote Objects are compatible with Apple's Keynote, iWeb, Pages, but also with Microsoft's PowerPoint and Word.

Keynote Alphabet

iPresentee's free Keynote Alphabet is aimed at being used with Apple's Keynote presentation software. Keynote Alphabet includes 62 gold shining animations: 26 capital letters, 26 small letters, and figures from 0 to 9. Keynote Alphabet can be used as a decoration, or to emphasize main points in Keynote presentations. Keynote Alphabet is compatible with any version of Apple's Keynote. To download the package, use the link below.

Mail Stationery

Although Christmas has come and gone, there's always next year. Why not equip yourself with stuff like Santa Claus Letter, New Year's Day, Christmas Wreath, Merry Christmas, Gift, Snowman, Christmas Letter, Christmas Socks, Santa Claus, and Christmas Tree? The package you are about to download is an installer that makes it possible for the templates to fully integrate with your Leopard Mail client.

Note: To start using Christmas Mail Stationery templates, click New Message, and then Show Stationery (in the upper right side of your Mail.app's window). To view the template choices, click a category, such as iPresentee. To apply a template to your message, click its thumbnail.
