Eva Adds Hotness and Nudity to the Last Issue of 'Jane'

What better way to say good-bye than with some skin?

'Jane' magazine is over with. Of course, many of you didn't know that because it's a women's magazine, but once the last issue comes out in August, you are sure to remember it. And probably even regret it a bit. The reason why I say that the August issue of 'Jane' will be so memorable is because Eva Mendes is featured in it... all hot and naked! Yes, that's a wonderful way to go out with a bang! Eva Mendes is just one of those adorable actresses (of whom there are so few left in Tinseltown) that has both a great body (that somehow escapes the norm) and talent. Sure, most of us know her for the first rather than the latter, but that doesn't mean that we should be totally oblivious to the fact that she did manage to star in movies opposite some of the greatest actors of our times (Denzel Washington would be the first one in a long line) and that her career is only at the beginning. But Eva is also fun because she's one of those few women who would openly admit to a reporter that they're proud and happy they have breasts. Because that's what she basically tells 'Jane' - a magazine who made a tradition of celebrating women's body. And what better way to celebrate the feminine than with a body as hot as Eva's? 'It's fun to be a woman. It's fun to flirt and wear makeup and have boobs.', Eva says. 'I'm thankful that I'm healthy and that I have my limbs and a nice physique... Of course, there are things anybody wishes they didn't have or wishes [there] were more of, but why even bring that up? I think it comes off as bratty.', she explains. And, with that, we finally get to see someone who's not as presumptuous as, say, Paris Hilton or other so-called beautiful starlets. And, the best part is that not only is Eva happy with her own body (and we're happy when she's happy), but she is not willing to change anything about it so as to fit the standards. Unlike many female celebrities we shall not name here, who starve themselves to look thin or to get rid of their natural curves, it's practically a relief to read that Eva is not about to go down the same path: she has curves and she's more than happy with them. 'Once you start doing the red carpet thing, you can become very critical of yourself; it's very easy. I was like, "I'm not falling into that". It's just not healthy.', she explains. Word! Many went out on a limb and compared Eva to Jennifer Lopez for being proud of their more prominent booties and for being proud of the assets they were born with it. So, 'Jane' probably had the best idea ever when they decided to finish off what was an amazing run with a photo spread and an interview with gorgeous Eva! And we're left only with the regret that they didn't think of it earlier...
