

31 October 2008

By: Sorin Trusca, Communications News Editor

YOUR LIFE... LIVE!

Flixwagon
Flixwagon

Flixwagon Now Integrated with Nokia's Share on Ovi Service

Users can upload live mobile videos directly to Share on Ovi from the Flixwagon account

Flixwagon announced that its service for broadcasting live video from the mobile phone to the web has been integrated with Nokia's free media sharing service 'Share on Ovi'. For users this means that the videos they are streaming live from their handsets via Flixwagon can be automatically stored on 'Share on Ovi'.

After setting their 'Share on Ovi' account details on the Flixwagon website, users are able to broadcast video, chat live, and upload to 'Share on Ovi' with a single click on their cellphone. They can also edit video details and post content to 'Share on Ovi' before, during or after each broadcast, and choose whether videos are publicly available to all users or stored privately. In addition, they can download the original video file to their computers, or watch their Flixwagon videos directly on their mobile phones.

"Flixwagon continues to strengthen its position as the premier mobile video broadcasting solutions provider for the mobile and media industries. The Share on Ovi integration is a great example of the powerful and simple Flixwagon user experience, which allows anyone to live broadcast and share from their phone in just one click," said Eran Hess, CEO of Flixwagon. "We are very excited to be working with Nokia in providing their users with the capability to share mobile videos through the Flixwagon service."

"Nokia is committed to helping people capture and share their mobile experiences anytime and anywhere," said Lior Nir, director at Nokia's Entertainment & Communities group. "This integration with Flixwagon is another step in enabling people to connect in a powerful yet simple way."

The Flixwagon mobile application is available for download directly from the mobile browser at m.flixwagon.com/nokia or via the desktop computer by signing up here. After installing the application, users can add the 'Share on Ovi' account details by logging into the Flixwagon website and accessing the Settings/Ovi section.