

By Archie Bocanu, Web News Editor

Get More Free Music Legally

tunesBag Music Sharing Service

Everyone likes to get more tunes for free and listen to the preferred music in any moment. tunesBag is an online music sharing service (an online audio library) that allows you to access your favorites tunes from anywhere, with the condition that you have a computer with an active internet connection, a web browser and the latest version of Flash player installed (or a device able to play mp3 or wma music files). tuneBag service acts like a central platform for sharing and backup your music files. After you create an account, you can upload music files in format mp3 or wma (in the present version, DRM protected files - like m4a / m4p etc - are not supported). Currently, you can upload up to 5-7 GB of music, but upon request, a user could be allowed to upload more. Your music files can be shared up to 15 friends or others tunesBag service users. tunesBag service provides you many possibilities to upload music. By using the default web-based application, anyone will be able to upload the desired music files. This web-based service for music sharing and backup integrates with FaceBook and YouTube and, as a consequence, it extends its social networking character by providing sharing opportunities across other social networking platforms. If a user does not find a certain tune, the YouTube video automatically linked to a certain track is available or the same tune could be found via other public source. The communication with other users is facilitated by the existence of an individual page for every user, where you can leave messages. The service is free and perfectly legal according to the Austrian copyright laws that allow the usage of a private copy for backup and sharing in a closed group. An API for tunesBag music sharing service will be also released soon.