

5 February 2007

By: Alexandra Dogaru, Editor, Gaming Reviews (PC)

Gothic 3 Cheats

The nameless hero is on fire!

So my friend, you've made it out of the island of Khorinis and now wish to engage on another mission for the Emperor. A taugh trail lies ahead of you. Thousands of orcs crave to have your head on the wall displayed as a trophy. If you're cruel enough you'll pledge your alliance to them and one day the great mage Xardas will grant you with powers you never dreamed of. But if you decide to help these hopeless beings called men - your friends and kin - the road to redemption is much longer. The rebels hide in the woods, protected by the roaming wild beasts and the dense forests. They desperately need your help, but first you must make your way there and gosh is it an intricate road. You - the nameless hero - with your bow, or magical cunning or sword will change the balance of this never ending war. You will decide who deserves to win this time. The Emperor has always caused you troubles. He says he was sure that you'll prevail. But can you really trust him? What vicious creatures and insane mages will he put you face to face next? He's the reason you had to fight the Sleeper and the Dragons in the first place. And now he dares ask even more of you? These orcs may be evil, but at least they're so well organized and once you get their appreciation you're sure not to be stabbed in the back. So my wanderer friend, what is your decision? Do not ask what Gothic 3 can do for you. Ask what you can do for Gothic 3. A little help never harmed anyone, so let's get down on business. First locate the ge3.ini file in the Ini folder of your game (-Gothic3-Ini-ge3.ini) and open it in Notepad. Look for the string: [Game] TestMode=false Now just replace the word "false" with "true". Save the file as an INI file and boot your game (just one word changed so there is no reason for you to create a backup - you can always change it back). Note that some items have composed names so more than one word is necessary. You'll write these names using "_" to link them. In case you have an American Key Board you'll have to link them using "?". Once you boot Gothic 3, you can drop the dialogue box using the TILDE key "~". Input the following codes and get back to business: give all $\tilde{}$ all items gained give *item $\tilde{}$ gives player item specified in *item value idkfa $\tilde{}$ give 100 of each item god $\tilde{}$ player gains invulnerability invisibility $\tilde{}$ no target mode toggle kill $\tilde{}$ NPC entities in range die teach all $\tilde{}$ all skills are learned, but the player stats are all set to zero spawn *object $\tilde{}$ spawns specified item or creature set in the *object value Oh, don't forget to get the latest patches and give the review a second glance! Carry on, nameless hero!