Notorious singer Gwen Stefani added new accessories to her line fashion, like hats, mobile phone charms, handbags, t-shirts but also underwear, stationery and baby clothes. The new products will hit stores on 15 June. She says: "Everyone has a camera as an accessory. I thought it might be cute to have a camera that will go with your outfit. It will match the underwear I'm making." Stefani launched her fashion collection last year and has recently launched her more affordable line Harajuku Lovers line, which includes a $249.99 digital camera.
