Halle Berry To Buy A Private Jet?

"She was walking round the jets and giving them all a good inspection"

According to late rumors, actress Halle Berry was spotted looking to buy a private jet at an air strip, in California. Berry, 39, was seen in Santa Monica looking around for a private jet and asking questions to the salesman, pointing towards the planes she was interested in. An onlooker tells British newspaper The Sun: "She was walking round the jets and giving them all a good inspection. She met three salesmen and then had a meeting on board one of the jets. When she got off the planes a few others were brought for her to look at. She was pointing at different parts of the planes and asking the men questions." Meanwhile, Halle Berry confessed she doesn't want a man in her life anymore, after all she had been through over the last few years. "I'm done with men," Halle Berry said, laughing, in an interview to Fox News. "I'm going to be alone. I have no luck with relationships. I don't think I'm made for marriage." Berry has been married twice. Her first marriage in 1992 to baseball player David Justice ended in a 1996 divorce. Her second marriage in 2001 to musician Eric Benét has resulted in a 2003 separation (and a 2005 divorce) reportedly due to Benét's infidelity. She has never had children herself, but is close to her step-daughter India from her marriage to Benét. Berry does have two Maltese dogs though: Miss Polly and Little Willie.
