A bit of help at Hogwarts

Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire is an action adventure game based on the highly successful movie and book written by JK Rowling, the fourth one in the series from the Harry Potter universe. The usual heroes are playable in the game, Harry, Ron and Hermione, all of them can be controlled by the player. In this game, besides all the usual adventures, the heroes must take part in the TriWizard Tournament which is held at Hogwarts.

Played from a third person view, the action is quite diversified and the game features plenty of level to keep the player entertained. A system borrowed from RPGs is also present in this game, the players being required to collect Bertie Bott's Every-Flavor Beans, which help by restoring stamina and the player's magic powers. Also, at the end of each level, these beans can be used to purchase collector cars, which are used to increase the player's abilities and magic powers. After completing the task issued by the TriWizard Tournament, the player will face the villain Lord Voldemort. The game sold pretty well due to the great number of fans who are willing to buy anything related to the Harry Potter brand.

HINTS

Hogwarts Exterior

To easily destroy smaller monsters, use Wingardium Leviosa and throw them off the edge. Note: This does not work in the Avifors Dugbogs thing.

Cauldron attack

Walk around an area with Bubotubers near a cauldron. Use Wingardium Leviosa on the Cauldron to lift it in the air, then guide the cauldron towards the Bubotuber. A successful strike will explode the cauldron and the Bubotuber and clear the way. If you cause the explosion near a creature, they will take damage. The best place to try this at is Dragon Woods, near the dragon fly-by. This works best with one or more players.
