Hot Jessica Alba to Host MTV Movie Awards

Expect masses of Alba fans there

Jessica Alba, one of the hottest things alive on planet Earth was chosen by MTV to host this year's MTV Movie Awards. Not only will she show her most gracious self (and luscious body) to introduce some moments and guests but the Alba-crazed audience will also get a chance to see the diva step on stage to receive at least one award, as Alba is also nominated in three categories (among other things the almost unbearable sexy parts she played in Fantastic Four and Sin City). The 2006 MTV Movie Awards is recorded on June 3 and broadcast one week later. Until then Jessica Alba has all the time to find sexy outfits and witty lines and get used to the 'great honor" (as she herself described the hosting of the show.) When one looks THAT good no hosting or comedy experience is required, so there shouldn't be any problem with fitting in.
