Jackass member Steve-O is copying Angelina Jolie's tattoos, hoping this will give him the chance to come closer to the actress and maybe to have a romantic relationship with her. Steve-O, who already has his face tattooed in his back, came up with the idea after he visited the Thai artist who etched a traditional Khmer symbol on the actress's back. So now, Steve-O is the proud owner of the Khmer symbol and, since then, he also tattooed Billy Bob on his arm, just like Angelina Jolie had, because she removed it after the couple divorced. Steve confessed he did all this because he's hoping to have a chance with beautiful Angelina. He says, "It can't hurt my chances."
