It is reported that Jennifer Aniston was crushed after she saw the pictures from People magazine with Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie acting like a loving family. Jennifer also "freaked out" when she heard that her ex-husband is going to have a child with Angelina. A source quoted by Britain's Daily Star said: "She has taken it hard. She just can't let it go." "She can't stand the thought that Brad could be starting a family with another woman while they're still legally married". The source added: "She wants Brad to tell her the truth rather than have to pick it up second-hand" Two weeks ago, Jennifer Aniston confessed to US magazine Vanity Fair that the real reason for divorcing Brad Pitt was because he was cheating on her. A source told America's New York Post newspaper about the upcoming interview: "She has said she did want babies with Brad and that starting a family wasn't the issue. The issue was Brad cheated".
