Jennifer Lopez decided to design a new fashion line, but this time for dogs. The singer, who just launched last month her fashion range for woman named Sweetface, thought it will be a good idea to make a line of accessories for pets. An insider said: "Jennifer just got creative and wanted to extend the range of jewels for animals. She has always found it somewhat frustrating that there are limited accessories available for them." Earlier this month Jennifer Lopez received $1 million engagement ring from her husband Marc Anthony. America's STAR magazine reported the couple's initial courtship was so fast, they were never formally engaged, so Anthony thought it was a romantic gesture to give his bride an 8.5 carat engagement ring estimated to cost about $1 million as an anniversary present.
