iEntertainment Network announces that Legend of Mir 3, a famous Massively Multiplayer Online Role Playing is coming to IENT's game service for online play. Over 1 million players worldwide play Legends of Mir 3 and the game has been praised for its ease of entry, its well-balanced game play, and the many and varied activities players can accomplish in the Legend of Mir 3 worlds. The web site for IENT's Legend of Mir 3 servers and the place to sign up for the Beta program will be www.LOM3.com. The Legend of Mir 3 offers improved graphics technology, advanced strategic battle systems, exciting new weapons, new training and operational missions, allowing players to immerse themselves in the history, conflict, strategies, and challenges of the Legend of Mir 3. Legend of Mir 3 has been upgraded significantly from the Legend of Mir II to include new features including the "commission man", where players can leave items to be sold when the player is offline, new teleporting and transportation systems to reduce the long travel times in the massive maps that accompany the new game, and greater customization of the players clothes, looks, and armor among other new and exciting features. WeMade, the developer of the title, is always improving Legend of Mir 3 and has announced significant new maps and features will be coming over 2006. "We are very excited about bringing such a successful game to the United States. WeMade is a large and successful online game company and we are pleased that they choose iEntertainment Network as their online partner," says J.W. Wild Bill Stealey, CEO of IENT. "We expect Legend of Mir 3 to be the first of many projects IENT will undertake with WeMade Entertainment." IENT plans to open the Legend of Mir 3 Closed Beta on Tuesday February 7th 2006. IENT plans to hold significant events with exceptional prizes for player winners throughout February and March 2006.
