Beautiful teen actress Lindsay Lohan confessed that even though she did smoke pot once, she swore never to try again.

Beautiful teen actress Lindsay Lohan confessed that even though she did smoke pot once, she swore never to try again. Lohan declared she tried once marijuana and she hated it. She says, "I'm not going to deny the fact that I've tried pot. I hated it." But never cocaine. I've seen my father (Michael Lohan). I've seen how it messes families up. If I hadn't had experienced that, I may have gone down a different route. But I've literally seen how it tore my parents apart." Lindsay's father is serving four years in prison, for assault and drink-driving, and has battled for years against alcohol and cocaine addictions. Lohan, 19, and her brother Michael Jr, 17 are going to testify in their parents divorce case, which got under way in Long Island, N.Y., on Wednesday. Lohan's mother and co-manager Dina sued Lindsay's father for divorce and this one asked for a cut of his daughter's earnings in response.
