

7 September 2005

By: Entertainment News Staff, -

Madonna Can't Stand Guy Ritchie's Snoring

British film director Guy Ritchie confessed he barely spends his nights with her wife Madonna, because the pop star singer can't stand his snoring.

British film director Guy Ritchie confessed he barely spends his nights with her wife Madonna, because the pop star can't stand his snoring. Ritchie, 37, declared he often end up sleeping in the cleaning cupboard or the corridors because all the other bedrooms are being used. The film director said: "She doesn't seem to like my snoring, so she boots me out of bed." It's quite funny. We've got four houses, but in every one of them I end up sleeping in the cleaning cupboard or the corridors because all the other bedrooms are being used." Gut married Madonna on December 22, 2000 at Skibo Castle in Scotland, and they have one child together. They are both ardent devotees of the controversial quasi-mystical Kabbalah Centre and donate much money and time to practicing and spreading its teachings.