Ecstatic audiences for sure...

Michael Jackson is to be the main character in a documentary about rare ultra-freak endangered species on Discovery Channel. No, that was a wicked joke. Jacko is to star as himself in a new reality show centered on the Jackson's family, more exact, on the pop star's brother Tito's sons best known as 3T. The show will follow the boys as they try to make it into the showbiz industry again. La Toya and Jermaine Jackson's appearances are promised by the producers. That will give audiences the chance to catch M.J. applying make up live, delighting them with the view only a lucky woman from Bahrain was lately blessed. She was washing her hands in the ladies room, when she spotted Mr. Jackson powdering his nose, or what was left from it. She rushed and took some photos on her mobile phone, but, unluckily for million of gossipers around the world, the Police was there to confiscate the device and erase the evidence. In Bahrain it is forbidden to take unauthorized pictures to sell for profit.
