Miss USA and Miss Teen USA Seen Kissing

Tara Conner's drama continues

In a matter of just a couple of days, real estate magnate and the co-owner of Miss Universe Corp., Donald Trump, will announce his decision regarding Tara Conner, the present bearer of the Miss USA crown. Trouble began for the Kentucky-born beauty after her name started to appear in all the newspapers and especially the tabloids and the pageant committee thought it might be best to investigate on her life in New York City. Rumors abounded as to Conner regularly hitting the NYC clubs, engaging in underage drinking and other sorts of ill-fated activities. A doorman for the Trump Place building, where the Miss USA had been accommodated since April, when she was crowned as the most beautiful woman in the US, confirmed yesterday that she had been evicted and sent home by the Donald himself, which sparkled even more rumors as to her being stripped of her tiara. Today, various media reports inform that there might have been more to Trump's decision than just a rumor about her partying too much. TMZ claims that the beauty queen failed a drug test for cocaine and that this was why she was sent home in the first place, and not because of underage drinking. Then, it is said that her relationship with Miss Teen USA, Katie Blair, was taken beyond the stage of friendship and that the girls often engaged in sexually explicit dance moves and kissed as often as they could every time they went clubbing together. 'Tara was a party animal... I've seen them kiss before. They always dance all sexy on the tables. They definitely got close', one source told the media. So, all in all, if Tara is stripped of her tiara, the blame will probably go to more things than just one simple cause. There are sex allegations and drug allegations and the accusation of putting herself on public display to the detriment of the Miss Universe organization. 'She has a really bad drug problem. Everyone at Miss USA hated her. She slept with [Blink 182's] Travis Barker and she sleeps with all the club promoters... She was latching onto a crew of promoters because she had no other friends and she was using them for drugs. She started utilizing hip New York City people in the night-life scene to feed her addictions. I cut her off when she started leeching off all the other people I introduced her to.', another source, a former member of Tara's entourage is also quoted as saying. The announcement from Donald Trump is expected any day now. You'll find out about his decision by staying tuned here.
