

6 June 2007

By: Filip Truta, Games Editor

PC - Anacapri - The Dream Gone Gold, Priced and Dated

50 Hours of gameplay for as little as 24.90 Euros

Adventure's Planet SRL sells adventure games. But they also handle the announcements and it's their job to announce that S&G Software's highly anticipated adventure title, Anacapri - The Dream, has gone gold, today. Having gone gold and all, the new point and click adventure game will ship before the end of June, becoming available in the best online shops retailing for around 24.90 Euros. But there's good news for all the customers who will buy the game in pre-order through the game's official website, as they will obtain a € 2 discount on the regular price. Anacapri - The Dream is a point and click adventure game set in the island of Capri, mostly in the upper regions of Capri called Anacapri. Gamers step into the shoes of Dr. Nico N, an expert of the ancient civilizations. You, as a player are invited to Anacapri to accomplish a very difficult task: find the extremely powerful, but malicious Obsidian Disk. However, no one knows what the Obsidian Disk is and why it is so dangerous. In just a blink of an eye, gamers will discover that what they thought was reality, is in fact an illusion. Here are the game's main features, providing players with 50 hours of gameplay to say the least:- An intriguing story mixing history, myths and legend;- Dozens of puzzles perfectly embedded in the story line;- More than 40 characters (present and past) to interact with;- More than 8000 full screen pictures of the island;- Superb animation movies;- Original soundtrack composed by Silvio Savarese;- "Walking mode" - visit the entire game area as a tourist;"We are very happy" said Gey Savarese, S&G Software co-founder, "to release our second and most ambitious game on the international market. We are proud of the final result and we strongly believe the adventure fans will not be disappointed". You can also see the game's site to download some pretty amazing animated screenshots and remember, the game has just turned gold, with a June release on the horizon. Keep posted just in case anything pops up.