

BQ: June 2005

Paris Hilton Demands To Be Treated Like A Princess

Because she wants to be treated like a princess, she ordered her assistants to clear the toilet of ordinary people an all kind of dirty things before using it.

Paris Hilton was partying at West End club Kabaret's Prophecy in London, when she realized she has to go to the bathroom. And, because she wants to be treated like a princess, she ordered her assistants to clear the toilet of ordinary people and all kind of dirty things before using it. A clubber said: "Whenever she needed the loo, security was dispatched to clear the ladies for her arrival. Then she and her friends would go in together while her flunkies guarded the door. The controversial heir was escorted by her fiancée, Paris Latsis, who was dressed in a T-shirt with a picture of the sexy blonde. At a given moment, they were seen having a lover's tiff before kissing and making up. The source added to Britain's Daily Mirror newspaper: "Towards the end of the night it looked as if she and her fiancé were having a heated discussion - arms were flailing everywhere and Paris stormed off. But they soon kissed and made up and by the time they left they were all lovey-dovey again"