Paris Hilton Under Police Investigation

The famous socialite is said to have offered drugs and alcohol to some teenagers

Paris Hilton got in the middle of a Maryland police investigation after recent information leaked to the authorities claims she has allegedly offered teenagers drugs and alcohol. The allegations are linked to one episode of Hilton's reality show The Simple Life: Interns, when the socialite reportedly offered teens marijuana and bourbon to "loosen them up" for a taped segment. "She loaded myself and two other underage kids on shots of Jack Daniels to loosen us up for the show", said one of the teens who witnessed the pot scene. Meanwhile, a spokesman for 20th Century Fox - the company behind The Simple Life - insists the allegations are false: "Paris would never endanger the welfare of a minor." The Baltimore Police officials are taking the reports very seriously; they ordered a thorough investigation on the issue. "These are serious allegations. We will certainly be investigating them", Baltimore Police Detective Chris Schaeffer told US tabloid the National Enquirer. Hilton could not only face a hefty fine, but she might do some jail time if she's found guilty.
