Geometry pizza

Pizza Hut Brings Gamer Fantasies to Life

A lot of goodies are waiting for you inside a pizza box...

It is no longer a secret that one of the things that go hand in hand with countless hours of gaming frenzy is a huge slice of delicious pizza - even though doctors, parents and other people keep repeating that it is not healthy at all. Well, in order to turn us into even bigger addicts, Pizza Hut has decided to offer everybody a chance to turn their fantasy into reality. Yes, the pizza-contest for gamers has begun!"Gamers have always been big fans of Pizza Hut so this sweepstakes is a natural fit," said Brian Niccol, Pizza Hut CMO. "Your next online order at pizzahut.com could be your ticket to a gaming package that will make you the envy of all your friends," he added.If you're wondering what he's talking about, here it is: the Gamer's Fantasy Package, containing over $10,000 worth of gaming goodies. In other words, a Nintendo Wii, Xbox 360, and a PlayStation 3, for starters, along with a 60 inch plasma television, a set of three seat-curved home theater seating from Berkline, a Bose home theater system, a popcorn machine, and a year subscription to GameFly. And to enjoy all these at maximum... the lucky winner will also receive free pizza for a whole year. To enter the competition, you have to order online a pizza from Pizza Hut until the 26th of July this year. And, even though there are huge chances you won't be the winner of the Gamer's Fantasy Package (but one may never know!), you will still have 30 days of free game rentals from GameFly. Also, the five first prize winners will receive one-year trial memberships to GameFly, while 500 second-prize winners will get 60 day trial memberships. Official rules and contest details are available on the official website (click here to check it out).Now, with all these goodies announced, there is one more thing you will really need in case you win the contest: a Wii Fit. It's a must. I'm wondering why that isn't included in the package...
