Sharon Osbourne to Get A Breast Reduction

Surgery again for Mrs. Osbourne

After she had boob job at the beginning of this year, Sharon Osbourne now came to the conclusion that her brand new things are too heavy. So she is cutting them off a little. Ozzy's wife told Gordon Ramsey on his F Word show: "The last thing I had done was my boobs. But I don't like them now, they're too big. I'm going to have them changed." What is the rocker going to say about that? He was declaring at the time, after his wife's surgery, "She's great. She just had some new tits. They've only just been done. I've gotta wait to see what happens." Sharon once called him a 'f* rabbit', confessing they still make love every night, despite age. Hopefully, he won't mind the often change of size through which his wife's breast is going, because Sharon is determined to undergo the reduction surgery: "He likes them, but they're too big. Honestly, they weigh a lot."
