Sean Preston Federline already has a hotmail account

The newborn baby of the famous couple Britney Spears - Kevin Federline seems to have already been drawn into the business world. The email account name SeanPrestonFederline@hotmail.com is on auction website eBay with a highest bid of $5 (GBP2.90), with eight days left to run, according to Contactmusic. "You are bidding for the hotmail email address SeanPrestonFederline@hotmail.com, simply a must have for the dedicated Britney Spears fan. This would make the ideal gift for the truly dedicated Britney Spears fan. It is something to be treasured for a lifetime. Serious bidders only, please!", says the description of the "item" posted on eBay. The seller is "neoduder", located in United Kingdom. Britney Spears has recently declared that she wants her newborn son, Sean Preston, to have a normal childhood. "Being an entertainer, especially starting at such a young age, you long to please people and become what they want to see", the pop princess told "Elle" magazine. The singer also confessed that she hopes marriage and motherhood will help her stay in touch with reality and "not be influenced and manipulated so much." Meanwhile, Britney has announced that she contacted toymakers Mattel to create dolls with her, Kevin Federline and her baby Preston, for her fans. A source is quoted by Britain's Daily Star newspaper as saying: 'There is already a Britney Spears Barbie doll but it has proved so popular, there's talk of producing an entire Britney Spears family. They are bound to be huge in the States.' Britney also hopes that her mom Lynne, dad Jamie, older brother Bryan, younger sister Jamie Lynn, her tiny dogs, Bit Bit, Lucky and Lacy, to be added to the collection.
