

5 February 2007

By: Iohana Georgescu, Communications News Editor

Verizon's Motorola Phones for Valentine's Day

The K1m in Fire and the V3m in Orchid Pink

If you were considering giving that special someone flowers or candy, you may reconsider after you've seen what Verizon Wireless has in store for you for Valentine's day. As if the Strawberry LG Chocolate from Verizon weren't enough for the holiday, now you have two more phones that for some people are perfect as a gift on that special day, namely the MOTOKRZR K1m in Fire and the MOTORAZR V3m in Orchid Pink, in case you haven't had enough of the RAZR slimness yet. The Fire red MOTOKRZR is only 17mm thick and 44 mm wide and comes with several nice features like a 1.3 megapixel camera with zoom, touch sensitive music controls, a music player with support for AAC, AAC+ and MP3 file formats, Bluetooth for connectivity, MMS, SMS EMS and IM messaging capabilities and a MicroSD card slot for memory expansion. If red is not one of the colors you prefer, then the pink MOTORZR V3m might be a better choice. It also comes with a 1.3 megapixel camera with 4x digital zoom and video recording capabilities, Bluetooth for connectivity, support for V CAST and VCAST music and VZ navigator, an integrated music player, a 2.2 inch 65k color TFT main display and a 65k color CSTN external display. Both Motorola phones are available for online purchase at any of Verizon Wireless' stores, including Circuit City. The MOTOKRZR is available at $99.99 after a $50 mail-in rebate on a two-year agreement, while the RZR will cost you $49.99 after a $50 mail-in rebate on a two-year agreement.