

16 March 2007

By: Marius Oiaga, Technology News Editor

WinRAR Goes Unplugged

The first beta version is available for download

WinRAR has truly gone unplugged. The first beta of WinRAR Unplugged 3.62 will enable users to utilize the 32-bit Windows version of RAR Archiver on-the-go. WinRAR Unplugged 3.62 does not require installation and is designed to work independently from a single computer via devices including USB/Flash drives or external hard drives. While making WinRAR platform-independent, win.rar GmbH, publisher for RARLAB software still enable users to access their profiles, AV-Code and themes. "win.rar GmbH is dedicated to providing users around the world easier access to WinRAR and with the release of WinRAR Unplugged, they have once again ensured that WinRAR continues to be the most complete and technologically up-to-date compression tool," stated the press release announcing the WinRAR 3.62 Unplugged beta. Flexibility and mobility come inherently with WinRAR 3.62 Unplugged beta, as well as other common product features such as storage, backup and data management. Only that by placing WinRAR 3.62 Unplugged beta you will be able to use the compression tool with any PC available. In this context, win.rar GmbH has also addressed the issue of data security. When users take out the portable device containing WinRAR Unplugged, their information is transferred to the device. win.rar GmbH has informed that current users of WinRAR will automatically get to use WinRAR Unplugged at no extra charge due to the fact that WinRAR product keys will also function with the Unplugged version. "WinRAR Unplugged also supports 7 interchangeable languages in one version! Supported languages are: English, French, Italian, German, Spanish, Japanese and simplified Chinese," also informs the press release. WinRAR Unplugged 3.62 beta was tested by Softpedia as being 100% Clean and is available for download here.