iWeb Intros now available as standalone items, or bundled with the iWeb Suite

iPresentee, a company that develops add-ons for Apple's iWork and iLife suites, has announced the standalone version of iWeb Intros, as well as an updated iWeb Suite, which includes all versions of iWeb Themes, iWeb Themes for Business, iWeb Animations and Keynote 3D Stuff. iWeb Intros comprises five items: Desert, Groove, Paint Splatter, Dreamy Intro and Multilingual Greetings and can also be obtained by purchasing a copy of the iWeb Suite package.

iWeb Intros are pre-made flash intros for iWeb, which, as their name implies, can be used for an intro page for your website, or can be incorporated into any iWeb template. iWeb Intros are designed for websites, so they start immediately after being launched. Loopable music and a loader bar are incorporated in each Intro.

"iPresentee brings you the finest flash welcome intros to be used with Apple's Web site building application, iWeb," the company states on its website. "Visitors will like your Web site more if you make a nice welcome for them. You can choose intro for your Web site to make it more beautiful and more interesting." Individual iWeb Intros are available for $10 each.

Speaking about the full power of its offerings, iPresentee claims that its iWeb Suite can expand your Apple's iWeb features to great extent. "iWeb Suite includes all versions of iWeb Themes, iWeb Themes for Business, iWeb Animations and Keynote 3D Stuff," the company reveals. "From Playable to Office iWeb Theme, from 3D object to animations for iWeb, and a lot more or just everything to create unique and great-looking website with iWeb."

Requirements for the iWeb Suite include any Mac running Mac OS X with iLife '08 or iLife '09 installed. The giant iWeb Suite contains 20 iWeb Themes, 20 iWeb Themes for Business, five iWeb Intros, 75 iWeb Animations and 115 Keynote 3D Stuff objects for just $60. With this much "stuff," you'd better make some profits, otherwise you're in no place to own a website. Visit iPresentee here to check out the new Intros in action, or to buy some.
